OLD CHESTNUT CABIN

CHERI WOODARD REALTY

OLD CHESTNUT CABIN

Hidden behind a curtain of century-old boxwoods, Old Chestnut Cabin feels like a world of its own: a quiet refuge from everyday life. At its heart stands an immaculately restored two-bedroom, two-bath farmhouse dating to around 1780. Hand-hewn logs, wide-plank floors, and exposed beams run throughout, while twin fireplaces anchor each end and deepen its historic character.

Though rich with rustic charm, the cabin has been thoughtfully updated with soapstone counters, stone hearths, and generous natural light. A screened front porch and peaceful rear deck invite slow mornings and relaxed evenings, drawing you outside. The wide lawn unfolds into a welcoming outdoor space that includes a broad slate patio ideal for gatherings and a weathered turkey shed repurposed as a charming garden shed, all adding to the property's timeless appeal.

Beyond the lawn, a wooded path winds down to a gentle creek, where the afternoon drifts by to the sound of water over stone and native songbirds. Simple elegance and deep serenity make Old Chestnut Cabin a retreat in the truest sense.
